Red flag conditions allowed a field burn to escape a landowner's control. Helitack, engines, air attack, and tanker 260 were dispatched. The White Mountain IA2 crew was reassigned to the incident and assumed command. The scooper cooled enough of the fire to allow hose lays to be deployed around the perimeter. A squad and the crew worked with the engines to set-up the hose lays. The helicopter and helitack were released after two hours. Engines and a water tender were released at the end of shift. The need for the tender will be reconsidered in the morning. Berms are deep burning and may require additional work beyond the lanowners control. Containment is expected at the end of the next operational.
