HIGHLIGHTS

- Two new fires were reported Monday to the Alaska Interagency Coordination Center (AICC). One small fire, located 30 miles south of Fairbanks on U.S. Military lands, is now being monitored while state and local firefighters responded to a tundra fire five miles northeast of Naknek. No fires are staffed in Alaska. Currently 34 fires are active in Alaska. AICC reports that so far this year 253 fires have burned nearly 222,515 acres statewide.
- Large fires are burning in the Lower-48. Initial attack activity was heavy nationally on Monday with 342 new fires reported. For information about the national situation visit: <http://www.nifc.gov/nicc/sitreprt.pdf>

The Bureau of Land Management Alaska Fire Service provides wildland fire suppression services for all Department of the Interior and Native Corporation lands in Alaska, and assists those entities with other fire management activities including: guidance and interpretation of fire policy for BLM Alaska and management of the BLM Alaska aviation program. In addition to fire suppression missions, AFS also conducts prescribed fires in accordance with various partner agreements.
