Narrative: 1230 hrs: Zone surveillance aircraft 9VS reported the most recent slop-over at Idaho Creek was active with very isolated and occasionally torching. No real changes in size since last surveillance. Several areas smoking, but nothing had built enough heat to make any runs. The fire was receiving a north wind and some widely scattered rain showers were in the area.

1930 hrs: Zone surveillance flew the fire again and reported the winds from the north had increased the fire size 30 to 50 acres on the Idaho Creek slop over, joining it with the main fire to the south. Numerous showers in the area had knocked down the fire and it was creeping and backing.

Narrative: Two crews were delivered to the fire between numerous retardant drops. 5 helicopters plus two from the National Guard supported the fire. Fire behavior was extreme with active running, torching and crowning. When a thundercell passed over the fire, fire blew up and the air support was shut down. Multiple structures along the Yentna are threatened. For tomorrow, structure assessment and protection along with crew shuttles are first the priority. A type II team has been ordered.
