Narrative: Ground personnel continued to extend and secure dozer containment lines. Efforts were supported by CL-215's in the morning. As the weather warmed, water drops became ineffective and the CL-215's were released. The fire escaped the line in the late afternoon and air tanker T-55 worked with ground crews to regain the line using retardant drops. This effort was augmented with bucket drops from 392NS.

The fire made a major blow out late in the day. Personnel were forced to retreat. Equipment along the road made a run to safety. All the dozer line was lost. Air attack assisted in guiding the evacuation supported by the two CL-215's. All personnel were safely evacuated. Pogo provided services for personnel on the eastern side of the fire. The rest of the personnel were housed in Delta Junction. The road within the fire was closed.
