On its way from Aniak to McGrath, J-12 flew the fire to check on ground personnel. T-44, T-45, T-52 and A-4 were all ordered from Palmer to respond to the fire. J-66 was launched from McGrath and deployed 8 jumpers. Multiple loads of retardant were consistently dropped through out the afternoon, and BD-134 relieved A-4 later on. BD-134 sized up the fire as 100-130 acres and responding to the retardant well. There is wet land at the head of the fire that it has burnt itself into, and the fire will continue to self extinguish itself in that area. The base of the East flank was exhibiting most of the fire behavior, and retardant was reinforced to that area. A 4 man helitack crew was moved to the fire, along with the Scammon Bay crew to help suppress the fire from the ground.

Helicopters 399EH and 212HL assisted in shuttling supplies and the rest of the Yukon Crew to the fire. Due to an increase in fire behavior, BD-134 and T-52 responded from McGrath for one drop of retardant. Cooler weather and cloud cover later in the day helped containment efforts, but high winds on a ridge top have caused several flare-ups. The fire personnel continued to secure the edge throughout the evening. A-4 checked the fire before heading back to Palmer and reported not much heat or smoke was showing up.
