Fairbanks Emergency Communications Center received a call from the Chief at Tri-Valley Volunteer Fire Department reporting that there was greyish-white smoke north of the Ridgetop Cabins near Mile 253 Parks Highway. The Chief stated that the fire was inaccessible by road, so their department was unable to respond. It appeared to be burning in black spruce and there are cabins in the area. Helicopter 930 was launched to surveil the area while multiple engines went en route from Fairbanks. H-930 found the fire to be approximately 10 acres, in continuous black spruce, with multiple structures threatened. They quickly ordered additional resources to attempt to impede the fires spread and save the structures. Two loads of smoke jumpers, T-542, four fire bosses, three helicopters, four crews, and engines from throughout the State were deployed as the fire grew to 300 acres. Both the ground resources and the aerial assets made a difference to growth potential. Aggressive efforts from the group assigned to structure protection were able to ensure that the risk to the cabins in the area was as low as possible.
